WILD OIL WELL AGAIN CHECKED

"Mary Sudik," Outlaw Gusher, Boils Against New Steel Barrier.

By The Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 7—Outlaw gusher "Mary Sudik" has been checked again, but the oil is still flowing. The well is a gusher of ten barrels per minute, and the steel barrier around the well is cracked and leaking. The well was first checked last Saturday after 11 days of flowing. During that time the oil showered the country side far and around without restraint, causing a loss of 1,000 barrels of oil daily.

With the pressure of the oil still operating, the field was closed to traffic. Because of the damage to the spreading gas and oil well lines, no oil or gas was being produced at the moment. A new line from two gushing pipes is being installed to the top of the giant gusher.

Plugs To Be Used
In the "Wild Mary" region under control, plug tomorrow will start turning under the oil soaked terrain. Once the oil has been covered up or drained off all of the 147 active operations in the field will be resumed.

A double oil nipple, secured above a series of fittings that included two master gates, was the mechanism that finally halted the towering column of oil which was backed by a daily flow of some 200,000,000 cubic feet of gas. Twice previously the "Wild Mary" has circumscribed less intricate stoppers fitted to the top of the giant gusher.

Blowing in March 26, as a gusher, the "Wild Mary" shortly afterward blew out a master gate, intended to control the hissing well. The well, which soon developed an oil flow indicating it is the world's largest sweet high gravity producer, then ran uncontrollably until Friday night.

The owners of the well, the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Co., have made no announcement of their plans for handling the gusher in the future.

17 Die in Train Wreck; Dynamite Blast Blamed

By The Associated Press
TOKYO, April 7.—The railway ministry today announced that 17 persons had been killed and seven severely injured in an explosion aboard a train near Oita, Kyushu prefecture. The explosion was officially attributed to dynamite, which was believed somehow to have become mixed in the coal used by the engine.

All the dead were passengers. A majority of the 17 apparently lived for several hours after the explosion. The blast started a forest fire which burned throughout the night.

WAR OVER FOX FILM
INTERESTS IS ENDED

Bitter Fight Brought to Close as Movie Magnate Sells to Syndicate.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, April 7.—The bitter fight, which has been waged for months for control of the Fox film interests is at an end today. Sale of the controlling stock of William Fox to a syndicate headed by Harley L.
Clarke, president of General Theaters Equipment, Inc., was announced by Samuel Untermyer, Fox's attorney.
Fox sold 151,000 shares of Class B stock of the Fox Film corporation and the Fox Theaters Corp.

Untermyer said he expected the retirement of Fox from control of the corporations would result in dismissal of the litigation pending in connection with affairs of the companies.

He said that Fox would continue with the companies for five years as chairman of the advisory board and that the companies would continue to produce and exhibit motion pictures under the name of William Fox.

Litigation, growing out of the financial difficulties of the Fox motion picture properties after the collapse of the stock market last autumn has grown till seven major suits are on file with 10 attorneys for record.

Gives $3.50 Truss
To Ruptured Men

Pay No Money, Now or Ever,
For This Truss, Says
Doctor-Inventor.

Kansas City, Mo.—To help introduce an easy method that has helped thousands upon thousands of people, Dr. Andrew Kaiser, well-known Hernia Expert, offers to give a $3.50 truss to any one with ruptured abdomen. His newer method does away with leg straps, elastic belts and crude binding springs. Many people suffer with very bad ruptures, have declined it brought them quick improvement and freedom from the handicaps and discomfort of previous truss wearing. By its proper holding it gives Nature a chance to strengthen and build up the weakened tissues and muscles and thus has assisted in the relief of many people.
The method is sent on 30 days' trial.
If it does not help—return it, with no cost for the trial. The $3.50 truss is ours just for making this trial. Take advantage of this offer. Write today

Ersatz Preussen Has Been Overrated.

Some of the mystery surrounding the 10,- 000-ton German cruiser, the Ersatz Preussen, now in course of construction, which has been referred to as a "pocket battleship," has been dissipated, and it is now known that she has weaknesses as well as advantages.

Built to conform to the 10,000-ton limitation placed on German warships by the terms of the Versailles agreement, the Ersatz Preussen was designed to get within the limitation by saving space by the utilization of Diesel engines in place of steam and her weight has been substantially lightened by substituting plate welding for riveting. In size she is a cruiser, but she gets the battleship classification by reason of her main armament of six eleven-inch guns, guns three inches larger in diameter than any used on the new cruisers built under the Washington conference agreement by the powers party to it. She also has two triple torpedo tubes. Her armor, however, will offer less protection than originally thought by the experts of other powers, not exceeding in thickness five inches. Thus she must rely upon her designed speed of twenty-seven knots to escape the attacks of battleships, none about having that speed, but the speed advantage which she still has over battleships is lost as against the heavy cruisers of lighter armament, built or building under the Washington agreement, which have speed in excess of that she is designed to possess.

However, naval authorities outside Germany hold that her greatest weakness will probably arise from the use of the Diesel engine, upon which her designers rely to give her twenty-seven knots of speed and a cruising radius of 10,000 miles at a speed of twenty knots. Experience has shown that this style of engine does not stand up well under the vibration resulting from great speed, and that the German builders realize this is made evident by the fact that they plan to try out Diesel engines in the 6,000-ton cruiser, Lepzig, launched last October, before installing them in the Ersatz Preussen.

All in all, the "pocket battleship" of Germany may not cause the revolution in warship construction which was predicted at the time the news that German builders were constructing a mystery ship of heavy armament leaked out.

Russian Anthracite Free of Duty.

While the tonnage of anthracite being shipped into this country, free of duty, from Russia is comparatively small, there is now in the estimation of Henry D. Baker, former American communist attaché to the U.S.S.R., that congress should take a new looking at the language of the provisions of the tariff law against its dumping over here, prior to dealers about a dollar a ton below what they are asked to pay for Pennsylvania anthracite.

While the tonnage of anthracite shipped here by Russia since the American duty was taken off late in 1928 has not much exceeded 250,000, which is trifling compared with the American output of from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 tons a year, the principle is a bad one. Even the quarter of a million tons already shipped has lowered to that extent the opportunity of American miners to benefit from its mining.

The injustice worked in permitting Russian anthracite to come in free of duty becomes apparent in the light of Mr. Baker's statement that Russia can mine coal, ship it here and undercut the American operators for the reason that, whereas the latter pay an average wage of five dollars a day, the soviet government pays its miners but a ruble a day, which over there has the purchasing power of seventeen cents in our money.

The entrance into this country of Russian anthracite can not be prevented under the anti-dumping provisions of our customs laws.
Dumping, as we construe it over here, is the selling abroad of the products of a country, at prices lower than those at which they are sold in that country. The charge of dumping can not be legally sustained against Russia in this matter for the reason that it does not sell anthracite at home. What little is used there, Mr. Baker states, is used by the soviet itself.

"There is no free market for coal in Russia or for any other article," Mr. Baker explains. "If any coal should be sold, such as to a government-owned hotel where foreigners stop, it is sold really only from the soviet, by the soviet and to the soviet. In fact, most of the hard coal is apparently now not used at all in Russia, but is reserved for dumping in other countries."

He adds that this same problem has a vital bearing on other American industries, such as lumber and matches, which the bolsheviki already have begun to dump, and he suggests that a new definition of dumping should be written into the tariff law, which would provide for the exclusion of articles bought unreasonably below the basic of fair wages for labor and a fair profit for capital, in both cases in accord with American standards.

After a search of eleven years, a man charged with stealing $13,000 from a bunk at Englewood, New Jersey, was located on the poor farm near Cheyenne, Wyoming, last week, by agents of the United States department of justice. Uncle Sam never stops till he gets his man.

An Associated Press story from Moscow reports that Stalin is promising the Russian peasants tax and credit concessions to popularize the collective farm idea and of his underlings. Despite the largest army in the world at their beck and call, the bolsheviki fear the might of the millions of the Russian peasantry.

Rear Admiral Byrd reports that he was misquoted; that he said that he would claim a case of the wish being father to the thought.

The city commissioners of Coral Gables, Florida, has revoked a gas franchise, given some time ago by the city to C. Bascom Shoup, on the ground that he has not produced the gas. Unless Mr. Shoup has been greatly maligned, it certainly can not be held that his failure to come across with the gas is due to lack of ability on his part.

A Chicago dispatch says that that city's social and political ills are to be diagnosed by a clinic of educators. Great Scott! Is it possible that Chicago doesn't yet know what's the matter with her?

President Paul von Hindenburg's warning of a dictatorship in the event that the reichstag voted a lack of confidence in the Bruening cabinet, together with his course in providing the chancellor with an order dissolving that body should the vote go against the government, quickly brought the Nationalists on the warpath to Hine. There's the great advantage a man of Von Hindenburg's stamp has over the general run. The Nationalists know that he meant what he said and would do exactly as he said he would.

Holland is considering the introduction of the death penalty for murder and certain other crimes. Can it be that the Dutch are unacquainted with the assertions of the self-constituted reformers who hold that all criminals are poor, sick sufferers who should be cared rather than punished?

The wife of a Chicago plumber is seeking a divorce, alibing this in contesting her. He intends to build her a battleship of pearl surrounded by gilded nymphs and a bed of gold with a canopy of a lion's cloth, but that is probably just a second-hand tub she bought for five dollars. It's hard to evade the thought that a girl who could fall for such a wild and crazy scheme

This must be said of the idea of Owen A.
Roberts and Attilio Peruzzini, members of the government in the name of the state, in petitioning the United States supreme court to take jurisdiction in the appeal of Alfred B. Fall without waiting for action in the court of appeals. It is a generous idea. They would have his appeal taken over and advanced that he may be vindicated while still of his conviction is set aside or punished if it is sustained. It is seldom that juries show such a split as here indicated toward one prosecuted by them.

the news that German builders were construct-
out.

Mutations and Fluctuations.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

During the past three decades, intensive researches have been made into the nature of biological variation. Bateman, prior to this period, had already noted the changes in that there are important differences in variations, depending upon whether they proceed from dermal foundations of the germ-cells or not. This new direction has been clar-ified and confirmed by the work of the famous botanist, Professor Hugo DeVries, of Amsterdam.

It is necessary to distinguish sharply between two different types of variations. The variation which is environmental in origin, resting upon a nutritive base, is termed a fluctuation. The variation which represents a germinal difference is termed a mutation.
We must beware of supposing that a mutation necessarily denotes a vast change; a fluctuation, a minute change.

If we consider cases of world nutrition, including, for instance, such a disease as rickets, as we read in "The Book of Popular Science" that we see that a mere fluctuation according to the biological definition, may yet show itself in a striking form as Knock-knees. No mutation of the body characters of the human body would be likely to approach in intensity such an abnormal condition as the bones of the leg. But that condition is nutritive, not founded upon the sure ground of the germ cells, and it is to be ignored from the standpoint of heredity.

In this country, we are familiar with the truly remarkable work of the late Luther Burkhardt in producing fruits. Flowers and plants. The object of DeVries was, by means of numerous experiments, to modify the characters of certain plants by means of simple straightforward selection along Darwinian lines. At first the results of the process of selection betrayed its effects. But after a while these effects continued to persist, no matter how carefully DeVries selected to order to produce certain characters. This discovery furnished the starting point of the crucial experimentation associated with his name.

A classic illustration of mutation, with the results known as mutants, is that of the Shirley poppy. In a patch of wild field poppies was observed a single flower, with petals showing a thin border of white. The seeds from this flower were sown, and of the 200 plants, there were four or five which produced only flowers with the white border. From these plants, by further horticultural processes, the strain of Shirley poppies originated.

The experiments of DeVries give one an idea of just how hard times are. The most expensive facial so far is $18.

The breathless luxury of such beauty bazaars dazzles. They are in tan, grey and silver and touched up with soft nymphs and pink cupids. At one the doorman has a French accent and sports a great coat of hair.
The reception room is filled with rare flowers every few hours. Lalique glass is in profusion and hot tea and coffee are served by imperious servants. The saleswomen, too, have a cosmetic and sartorial finish as sleek as the satinwood panelings.

A New York capitalist—and a chronic worrier—has listed sixteen fears that have caused him sleepless nights since boyhood.
Not one ever came true.

"How are you making it these days?" a cop asked of a passing friend.

"Since all the explosions, I don't make any more," was the reply. And I caught on the third bounce a block away.

A head waiter confides that Mary Pickford eats the heartiest breakfast of any celebity he knows. It includes steak, potatoes and often a salad.

A school of mines graduate from Colorado is superintendent of a swank Park avenue apartment-house. There should be some embarrassment about gold digging, if we could think it up.

On the other hand some one sends marked article captioned: "Seasickness—How It Is Caused." And right off it is our guess it would be caused by going to sea.

Cautious a police Lieutenant: "In case hold-ups some one should be brave enough to grab the robber from behind while the

I wouldn't be much use in the grafting but would be perfectly dandy for the shooting.—Copyright, 1930, McNaught Syndicate,

SPRING TRAINING TOO RIGOROUS FOR TEAMS

Walsh Thinks Major League Clubs Are Overdoing Conditioning Period in South.

By DAVID J. WALSH

NEW YORK, April 7.—With the exception of Mr. H. H. Brinkley, the general manager of the Y. M. C. A. in New York, and Mr. P. C. Felt, the manager of the Y. M. C. A. in Chicago, the Y. M. C. A. in the South is unanimous in the belief that the Y. M. C. A. clubs in the South are overdoing the conditioning period in the spring training of their ball teams. They are of the opinion that the high scoring attack of the Y. M. C. A. clubs in the South will be able to withstand the high scoring attack of the Y. M. C. A. clubs in the North if they do not exceed in the amount of time spent in the conditioning period.

The proceeds of the Y. M. C. A. Youngstown game will go to help defray expenses of Marion in the Midwestern cage tournament to be held in Ann Arbor the following weekend. The local team have covered themselves with glory this season and there is all reason to suspect that they will add further laurels should they go to Ann Arbor. The basketball popularity should not be slow to recognize the prowess of Y. M. C. A. clubs in the South, so that they may go to the Michigan tournament.

ANOTHER Marion addition to which is making its mark is the volleyball team representing the Y. M. C. A. They have amass'd one of the most brilliant records in the history of the sport and are now out to make a desperate bid for the Ohio Y. M. C. A. championship. They will travel to Dayton Saturday to fight it out with winners of the various district meets. Their right to represent the northern district comes as a result of their second place standing in the recently played district meet in Youngstown.

Now that the second round of the Class A division of the Y. M. C. A. cage tournament has gone by the boards, the two seem to have narrowed down in two teams. There are others in the race technically but unless they show more class than they have in games thus far they will be only a stepping stone for someone to mount in the quest for the title. Epworth M. B. and Steam Shovel Engineers will dispute the right to enter the final round. Take away off the Methodist team and we would not even consider them in the battle but he does lots of funny things when he gets into the church uniform and he might do the "wrong thing at the right time" and knock the Engineers out of the running. But we don't think so.

to again lack a junior basketball team made up of senior pure leagues brings another note of encouragement to the lovers of amateur basketball. NEW YORK, April 7.—Jackie Fields, Los Angeles, holder of the world's welterweight championship who means to keep fairly busy during his title without risking his life, is scheduled for a 12-round fight bout at Cleveland to follow next against Tommy Free of the Y. M. C. A.

Fields is an old and impressive fighter, though not the colossus he was in his prime. His body is not as great as it used to be, but he is still a good fighter.
